J.P.Morgan

Go beyond your potential

Hello,

We're looking for the best mathematical minds. Our team develops and maintains sophisticated mathematical models, cutting-edge methodologies and the infrastructure used to value and hedge transactions. We're in charge of building the tools that make sure we're complying with internal and external risk parameters as well as doing what's right for our clients. It's central to what we do.

Our internship opportunities are now open for applications.

To apply for our Quantitative Research or Machine Learning Internships please visit our website. These opportunities are open to Masters or PhD students only.

We're looking forward to hearing from you,

The J.P. Morgan Campus Recruitment Team
